

Dear Tulsa Press Club Supporter,

Page One luncheons return to the Tulsa Press Club in March 2022 with a multi-part Oklahoma tribal series. “Page One luncheons are a great opportunity for our members to interact with our civic leaders and community by discussing current events locally and statewide.” says Tulsa Press Club Board President Lacey Taylor “This tribal series creates an opportunity for local media to get to know those leading their respective tribes and learn more about their tribe’s growth in numerous sectors, while discussing important topics like the McGirt decision.”

Each Chief will briefly discuss their career path and then talk about the state of their tribe. They will address current issues, including how they’re responding to the U.S. Supreme Court’s McGirt ruling, which upholds tribal sovereignty and has changed the criminal justice system across the state. Following the conversation they will participate in a Q&A session with media members in attendance.

The series kicks off on March 25, 2022 from 11:30 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. with a conversation with Osage Nation’s Chief Geoffrey Standing Bear, who strives to improve the lives of all Osage people in a sustainable way through cultural preservation, improved health, educational excellence; increased employment and business opportunities, and the creation of a safe and progressive environment in which to live and work.

We hope you will join us for the Page One: Oklahoma Tribal Series. Limited sponsorships and tickets are available. And as always, we appreciate your continued support of the Tulsa Press Club’s mission to build community engagement by promoting the pursuit of ethical journalism.

Sincerely,

Lacey Taylor
Resolute PR
Tulsa Press Club President
